Freight Rates on Grain and Flour to Remain Unchanged

Further Than That the Crow's Nest Agreement Has Been Suspended For One Year—Progressives Were in Fight For Rates on These Commodities

After five hours' debate the house Monday night adopted the report of the special committee on railway transportation costs and recommended further suspension of the Crow's Nest Pass agreement, with the exception of the rates on grain and flour.

Conservatives who broke from the committee in protest Saturday night again contested the report on the floor of the house. hey had an amendment moved by Sir Henry Drayton that the railway commission be empowered to suspend the Crow's Nest Pass agreement "such suspension to be followed immediately by submission to the governor-in-council of a new schedule of rates as reduced by the commission," but the Conservative amendment did not provoke the long battle expected. Curiously enough, not one of the three party leaders spoke on it and it finally went down to defeat on the remarkable vote of 168 to 43, a majority against the amendment of 125. One Liberal, W. M. German, Welland, voted for the Conservative amendment. Two Conservatives, T. L. Church, of North Toronto, and W. F. MacLean, of South York, voted against it. Otherwise, Conservatives voted for the amendments; Liberals and Progressives voted against it.

This report recommends that the Crow's Nest Pass agreement be further suspended with a proviso that the Crow rate son grain and flour come into force next month. The general question of railway rates is referred to the railway commission. The report also contains a proviso that the Crow agreement may be suspended for a second year at the option of the government.

The most definite information available as to the effects of the proposals of the committee concerns the rates on grain and flour from western points to the head of the lakes. Reductions from the rates which are now in force that will be brought about by the adoption of the committee report will vary from three to ten cents per one hundred pounds.

Thus, the present rate on wheat from Winnipeg to Fort William is 17 cents per 100 pounds, or 10.2 per bushel. Under the proposed reductions it will drop to 14 cents per hundred pounds or 8.4 cents per bushel.

From Regina the rate on wheat is now 29 cents per hundred pounds or 17.4 cents per bushel; the reduced rate will be 20 cents per hundred pounds or 12 cents per bushel.

From Calgary the present rate on wheat is 36 cents per hundred pounds or 21.6 per bushel; the reduced rate will be 26 cents per hundred pounds or 15.6 per bushel.

The rates under the committee proposals are in almost all instances lower than the 20 percent reductions on grain which were offered by the railways in their second proposal. The Winnipeg rate in the 20 percent offer was one-half cent lower per hundred pounds than the Crow rate, but the rate from Regina would have been three cents higher and the rate from Calgary also three cents higher.

Reductions on basic commodities which were offered by railways in addition to the 20 percent cut on grain rates are not specifically included in the report of the specia lcommittee, but the whole question is referred to the railway commission. The same is true of the reductions which the railways offered in the grain rates westbound to Pacific ports. In view of the lack of facilities at the coast the westbound rates are not regarded by the western members as of major importance at the present time.

Field Marshal Wilson Was Shot in London

Field Marshal Sir Henry Hughes Wilson was shot and killed outside his house in Eaton Square, London. The two assailants of the field marshal were arrested.

Field Marshal Sir Heenry Hughes Wilson was formerly chief of the Imperial staff of the British army. He retired from this post early in the present year and stood for the Imperial parliament as a unionist candidate for North Down, Ireland. He was elected member for this Uulster district on February 21, and shortly after was appointed by Premier Craig as Ulster's agent for the restoration of order. The field marshal went to Belfast from England early in March with plans for restoring order, which he submitted to the premier.

BREEZELAWN LOCAL WILL MEET JULY 8TH

The regular meeting of Breezelawn Local U.F.A. will be held in Breezelawn school house on Saturday, July 8th, a t8.30 p.m.

The weed inspector, MrM. Barker, will be present and will take up the matter of wed control, explaining the new policy of the Department of Agriculture in this regard.

Subscribe now to The Review.

BOX SPRINGS PICNIC NEXT SATURDAY

Everything is now ready for the big Box Springs picnic next Saturday. A good program of athletic sports, bucking con, tests, horse races, etc., will be held in the afternoon, and in the evening there will be a big dance, for which excellent music has been secured. Bring along a basket and treat the whole family to an old time picnic. The old picnic grounds make an excellent place for such an outing.

WINNIPEG NOMINATES PROGRESSIVE CANDIDATES

Eight candidates were nominated as the candidates of the Winnipeg Progressive party to contest the local seats in the coming general election in Manitoba. The Winnipeg Progressive party's campaign is linked up with that of the United Farmers in endeavoring to gain control of the next legislature.

SUCCESS U.F.A. LOCAL TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC

The Success U.F.A. local have completed arrangements for their annual picnic, which will be held on the river at Grant Bros. ranch, on Friday, June 30th.

A good program of athletic sports horse racing, etc., has been prepared, and good prizes will be offered for the several events. Everybody is invited to join in this picnic. A good time i assured.

Alberta Appoints Labor Commissioner

Walter Smitten, of Calgary, who for several years past has been the secretary of the Alberta Federation of Labor, has been appointed Alberta commissioner of labor.

A provincial bureau of labor has been established in accordance with an act passed at the last session of the legislature and it is to take charge of this work that the appointment of commissioner has been made. All labor legislation will come under the direction of the new department and it is stated an attempt will be made to co-ordinate all this class of legislation under one head.

VALE U.F.A. LOCAL HOLDS SPECIAL SERVICES

Last Sunday the Vale U.F.A. local fittingly observed the annual U.F.A. Sunday by having special service on that occasion. There was an exceptionally large turnout of farmers, and the preacher, Mr. Martin, delivered a most appropriate address.

Redcliff Boy Saves Lady From Drowning

Robt. Stoner, one of Redcliff's popular young men, was responsible for saving Mrs. Laidlaw, of Medicine Hat, from drowning last Wednesday afternoon. A number of ladies were bathing in the river above the bridge, and further upstream, several boys, of whom Robert was one, were also having a swim. The boys heard the call of the ladies for help, and immediately Robert swam to the assistance of Mrs. Laidlaw. Although almost exhausted by the time he reached her, he heroically stuck to his task and eventually landed her safely on shore. By this time the unfortunate lady was unconscious, but Robert remembered his training in first aid which he received when he was an active member of the Boy Scouts. This he applied and it was not long before Mrs. Laidlaw showed signs of recovery. We are gad to be abe to report that Mrs. Laidlaw has now completely recovered from her experience.

Good boy, Bob. We always did like you, but we think more of you now than ever.

LOOKING FOR MARKET FOR ALBERTA RYE

Possible markets for Alberta's surplus rye crop are being looked up just now by the Department of Agriculture. It is expected that there will be about 2,000,000 bushels for export thi syear. The superintendent of field crops has written to France and Russia, with a view to selling some of it in these markets. Both of these countries, it is reported, have rye crop failures, and will need new supplies from other sources to carry them through.

Speaking in the Federal legislature, Sir Lomer Gouin, ex-premier of the Province of Quebec, stated that England has invested in Canada two and a half billions of dollars and that the United States has invested nearly two billions of dollars. He further stated that some three billions of dollars were invested in Canadian manufactures.

Robt. Gardiner to Address Meetings in Constituency

Mr. Robert Gardiner, member of the federal house for this constituency, writes to local U.F.A. officials that he wishes to address meetings throughout the Medicine Hat riding after he returns from the present session at Ottawa. He will devote three weeks for this purpose, but the dates have not yet been fixed, as he wishes to return to his farm first.

These meetings will be held in districts one, two and three, with six meetings in each district. Owing to the large ness of this constituency it will be necessary for several locals to combine and hold meetings in the most central places. Directors have been notified to arrange for these meetings. There is no doubt that these meetings will be well attended as all will be anxious to hea rfirst hand something of what has taken place at Ottawa at this session.

Alberta's Plan Of Colonization Now Under Way

30,000 ACRES OF IMPROVED FARM LAND IS SAID TO BE AVAILABLE — LAND LISTED WITH GOVERNMENT EXCLUSIVELY

Colonization plans for irrigation lands in Alberta are now about to be drawn up and the land-settling scheme set in operation. The listing of lands in the Lethbridge Northern district has been completed and a total of about 30,000 acres of improved farm land is thus available for settlement. This work has been going on under the direction of the irrigation council for some time past and has now reached the point where it will be possible to proceed with an actual publicity programme.

Lands listed in this way for sale by their present owners are in the hands of the government authorities exclusively and irrevocably for a period of two years. Nearly all the acreage thus listed ranges in price from $12.50 to $35 per acre. In the case of sale a commission of $2.00 per acre will be collected by th egovernment and from the fund so provided the government will pay the expenses of an immigration and colonization campaign.

Considerable interest has already been expressed in the Alberta lands, it is stated, by prospective settlers from the western states, and the government officials believe that when they have the campaign fully under way it will be possible to attract a good number of first-class farmer-immigrants. The land-listing carried on so far has been strictly confined to the Lethbridge northern irrigation district and has been in accordance with the government's decision that irrigation and colonization in the southern part of the province must go on together.

COMMISSIONER FOR RELIEF ACT BUSY

The work of E. J. Fream, the newly appointed commissioner of the Drought Relief Act is daily increasing and there is every indication that he will be one of the busiest men in Alberta before very long. Each mail brings in a sheaf of letters from farmers asking for information regarding the act.

Arrangements have practically been completed for the appointment of deputy commissioners. Five of these, it is expected, will be in harness early next week.

Letters have been sent by Commissioner Fream to the superintendents of mortgage companies, the managers of banks, and machinery firms, asking for their co-operation in the carrying out of the new measure. As soon as possible it is the intention of Mr. Fream to pay a personal visit to the portion of the province covered by the act.

Another Band Concert Next Sunday Evening

Encouraged by the success of last Sunday evening's band concert, the local band will give another such concert again next Sunday evening, at the same place and at the same hour. The following programme will be rendered:

Oh, Canada.
1 Square Deal—March.
2 Arcodia—Overture.
3 Mose Trombone.
4 Flowers of the Wildwood—Waltz.
5 Scenes from Operaland—Overture.
6 An Autumn Romance—Serenade.
7 The Universe—March.
8 God Save the King.

CANADA TO RAISE $350,000,000 LOAN

Hon. W. S. Fielding, minister of finance, intends to ask parliament for authority to raise a loan of $350,000,000. The loan is intended to pay all maturing bonds and obligations, inclusive, it is understood, of $182,000,000 of five year victory loan, issued in 1917, and falling due in December. It is probable that the new loan will, in part at any rate, be raised in Canada.

Town Council Re-Engages The Old Staff

WITH EXCEPTION OF TOWN CONSTABLE—UTILITY MAN TO DO THIS WORK—HAVE REQUEST FOR EARLY CLOSING BYLAW

A regular meeting of the town council was held last Monday evening. Those present were Mayor Bott, and Councillors Champ, Sissons, Brydle, Oakland and Cox.

Moved by Couns. Brydle and Sissons, that application from J. Kitchen as public utility man; J. W. Gray, as stenographer; F. H. Courtnell, as sec.-treas., and G. Moses, as engineer, be accepted, and apply at July 1st, 1922.

Moved by Couns. Champ and Cox, that Harvey, Richardson, Cole & Robertson, of Calgary, be engaged as auditors of the town of Redcliff from July 1st, at a salary of $330.00 per annum, plus travelling and hotel expenses, and that they be notified of this appointment.

Moved by Couns. Brydle and Sissons, that the council insert a notice in local paper that an early closing bylaw has been asked for.

Moved by Couns. Cox and Oakland that the fire committee have charge of the grasshopper drive.

Moved by Couns. Brydle and Cox, that as report of finance committee re lots assessed as acreage appears to be in accord with agreement entered into between the Redcliff Realty Co. and the Dominion Glass Co. and Munderloh Glass Co. for a period of ten years, same be accepted.

Council then adjourned.

MANY KILLED IN CLASH WITH MINERS

Nineteen are known to have been killed in open warfare of union men and sympathizers with the employees of the Strip mine near Herrin of the Southern Illinois Coal Company. An incomplete check up showed 16 non-union men and three union men dead. One of the non-union men was found hanging to a tree, his body riddled with bullets.

Opening Shoot At Rifle Range Dominion Day

RANGE NOW COMPLETED AND IN GOOD CONDITION — CARS WILL LEAVE G.W.V.A. AT NINE A.M. FOR SATURDAY SHOOT — ALL MEMBERS REQUESTED TO BE ON HAND

Arrangements have been made to have the first shoot at the new rifle range on Saturday morning next at 9.30 o'clock. As Saturday will be Dominion Day and a public holiday a large attendance is expected. The shoot is held in the morning so as not to conflict with the Box Springs picnic in the afternoon.

Those who are desirous of taking advantage of this range are requested to join the local association at once if they have not already done so. The entrance feef ro non-members of the militia is $2.00, and ammunition will be supplied at 2c a round. Members of the militia will be supplied with ammunition at half price.

Those wishing to take part in the shoot on Saturday should be in front of the G.W.V.A. hall at 9 o'clock a.m. sharp, when transportation will be provided. Ammunition and rifles will be supplied at he range.

It is advisable that all those intending to join should attend this first shoot, especially those who have not used the S.M.L.E. rifle, as instructions will be given on that occasion.

Local officers have gone to considerable expense and trouble in completing the range, and now have it in excellent condition. They should be encouraged in their undertaking.

Those having cars are asked to have them at the appointed place not later than 9 o'clock.

Review advertising is good business.

Liberal Response To Request To Fight Grasshoppers

MEN GO OUT FROM TOWN TO BREEZELAWN DISTRICT TO DISTRIBUTE POISON — BOX SPRINGS FARMERS ALSO RENDER VALUABLE SERVICE

Four car loads of citizens from town answered the call for help from farmers of the Breezelawn district to fight the grasshoppers. Those who went out were C. T. Hall, J. Tarrant, Benard & Donais, K. Ross, C. Zeigler, W. T. Lockwood, L. Barbe, T. A. Hicks, C. D. Scott, E. L. Stone, W. Campeau, J. Devitt, J. McClary, J. Allanback, A. Dewitt, G. H. Worts, H. Johnson, A. Carson, S. Worts and G. Abbott. We are informed that more were willing to go but there were not sufficient cars to accommodate them.

When they arrived at the scene the farmers had everything in readiness to commence operations. Teams and wagons were provided, and these were systematically arranged so as to cover the ground to best advantage. A. Dubeau was in charge, and kept everything moving like clockwork. Some scattered the poisonous substance from the wagons, while others, pail in hand, walked between the rows of wagons scattering it broadcast. In this way a large stretch of land was covered and about seven and a half tons of the poison distributed.

Those from town were astounded at the number of grasshoppers in the district covered. There appeared to be thousands of them for every blade of grass. They are thickest in abandoned land which has been allowed to go to weeds. It was largely in this kind of land that the work was done last Tuesday evening.

On Thursday evening of last week farmers of the Box Springs district, to the number of 54, went to the assistance of the Breezelawn farmers. They also covered a large strip of territory and did excellent work.

Breezelawn farmers wish us to hank all who responded to the call for help.

Govt. Will Investigate Financing in Alberta

Giving the proposed itinerary for the visits of Professor MacGibbon of the University of Alberta to various parts of this province to investigate banking and credit systems, a letter was received by H. Higginbotham, secretary of the U.F.A., from J. E. Brownlee, provincial attorney-general.

Some time ago it was proposed that the provincial government inquire into banking and credit systems of banks in this province, the main idea back of the proposal being to better the position of the farmers in receiving loans from the banks.

The report of these investigations will then be used in preparing proposed changes to be presented by the Alberta government when the Dominion Bank act is under revision by the Dominion government next year.

Professor MasGibbon was appointed to conduct the investigations and locals of the U.F.A. are being asked to co-operate with him when he appears at the different towns to inquire into existing situations.

Mr. MacGibbon will be in Medicine Hat on July 14th.

MANITOBA ELECTIONS SET FOR JULY 18TH

The legislature of Manitoba has been dissolved and the elections will be held on Tuesday, July 18, in all constituencies except The Pas. A cabinet council was held on Saturday night at which the decision was made and the necessary orders-in-council signed.

Nominations will be held on July 8 the interval between nomination and polling having been extended to ten days by a bill put through at the last session of the legislature.

There are 54 seats in the province. To date Progressives have nominate 48 candidates, Liberals 33 and Conservatives 24.

Says Cattle Embargo Will Soon Be Lifted

Within the near future the embargo on Canadian cattle imported into Great Britain will in all probability be lifted and when this question comes to a vote in the BBritish house of commons it will carry, according to Robert A. Dodds, of Newcastle-on-Tyne, one of the biggest cattle and livestock dealers of Great Britain.

"Today in Great Britain the feeling is almost unanimous among leaders and the people themselves that the embargo must be lifted," he said.

WARNING

Now that the rifle range is opening for shoots, the public are warned to keep off the ground covered by the range during shooting hours. The range is along the river bank west of the pump station.

W. C. Smith, M.L.A. Makes Trip Over Constituency

IS ARRANGING FOR ORGANIZATION IN CONNECTION WITH ROAD WORK IN OUTLYING DISTRICTS—OFFICERS OF LOCALS CO-OPERATE IN WORK

W. Cunningham Smith, M.L.A. for Redcliff constituency, passed through town last Thursday afternoon on a trip through this part of the constituency. The main object of his visit at this time is to line up the unorganized districts and get things in shape for the program of road work this summer

Mr. Smith informs us that under the system of road work adopted by the present government, a great deal of the say as to where this work shall be done is left with the several locals concerned. The rural portion of the constituency is divided up into unitis, and an allotment is made for each unit. The several locals in each unit are expected to meet and appoint a committee and a foreman. When this is done these officials meet together and decide on where the work shall be done in that unit.

On this visit Mr. Smith covered the northern portion of the constituency thoroughly. He reports that he met with great success and was delighted with the spirit of co-operation shown by officers of the several locals. Without an exception these officers were untiring in their efforts to make his visit a pleasant as well as a profitable one.

Naturally on this occasion many other questions of interest to his constituents were brought to Mr. Smith's attention, but all were disposed of to the satisfaction of all concerned. In most cases where complaints were registered these were found to be largely due to misunderstandings and were easily set right.

Mr. Smith informs us that the constituency is now thoroughly organized for this season's road work, and he is convinced it will be more satisfactorily carried out than in the past.

Crop conditions throughout the constituency vary considerably, said Mr. Smith. This was due to the prevalence of local showers this season. Because of this a great difference in conditions is noticeable in comparatively short distances. While rain is badly needed all over the constituency some sections are standing up remarkably well and the grain is in a healthy condition. There is a large increase in the acreage in rye this year and in most cases it is doing exceptionally well.

RE-UNION OF OLDS FOR EX-STUDENTS

July 21st promiese to be a big day in Olds, when ex-students of the School of Agriculture at that point, journeying from all corners of Alberta, as well as many fro mneighboring provinces, will met for their second annual mid-summer re-union. A very large attendance is predicted.

All ex-students are urged to be present and to advise th eSecretary, O.S.A.A.A., Olds, immediately of their attendance in order that proper arrangements can be made to accommodate all. A cordial invitation is extended to friends of ex-students, prospective students and others interested.

A Good Rainfall During Past Week

During the past week this district has had a number of local showers, and last night and early this morning a good general rain passed over the entire district. As a result of this the conditions are much improved and prospects much brighter.

On Tuesday afternoon a good soaker passed over from west to east covering a two mile strip, with Harvest Vale about the centre. This took in a fair portion of the Box Springs district, coming as far south as the Stair dam, and crossing over the river to the Schuler and Vale districts.

ASSISTING FARMERS TO PURCHASE STOCK

Since the incorporation of the Livestock Purchase and Sale Act by which the province of Saskatchewan sells pure-bred and grade livestock to the farmers of the province on credit, over 3,000 farmers have been assisted. Over 1,100 bulls, nearly 10,000 grade heifers and cows, 400 rams and almost 16,000 grade ewes have been supplied to farmers on credit. Farmers in nearly every part of Saskatchewan have profited by this credit system, some in purchasing better stock and others in laying a foundation of a grade herd or flock.

PROGRESSIVES HAVE A FAREWELL GATHERING

A farewell caucus of the Progressive party was held yesterday morning at Ottawa, with practically a full attendance of members, most of whom are leaving for their homes today. Events of the session and plans of organization work both during the recess and during next session were up for discussion, and confidence in the leaders was voiced by members from different parts of the Dominion.

Yesterday's wheat prices at Winnipeg: No. 1 Nor., 1.36 1-4; No. 2, 1.32 1-4; No. 3, 1.19 1-2. Feed oats were 48 3-4. Market fluctuating.

V.

Elba, Manitoba
June 21st, 19—

At the present moment I am sitting, in a green-and-red plush-covered easy (?) chair, in the parlour of

"THE PALACE BOARDING-HOUSE
Refreshments for Man and Beast at Reasonable Rates.
Hot Meals and Beds.
European Plan—You Pay for What You Eat.
Proprietor, MRS. REBECCA MILLS."

I quote the sign-board.

At the opposite side of the room Mary is seated before one of those modern instruments of torture known as an American organ. From it she is extracting—no word but that one so suggestive of dentistry will describe the operation—accompaniments to the most ragged of rag-time melodies which she is singing for the edification of Mrs. Mills' twin sons. The boys, who rejoice in the names of Reginald and Percival, are eight years old. They are red-headed, freckled little imps, and they possess the angelic smile which is peculiar to twins who are so much alike that they cannot be told apart and which, I believe, is due to the fact that punishment is always meted out to the wrong boy. Mary has discovered that Percival is minus a front tooth, so she feels sure that she will make no mistake. But if I am any judge of human nature as it is exhibited in boys of eight, Reginald also will lack a tooth before long. Who could blame him? I, for one, have not forgotten how I used to long for a "twin sister exactly like me."

"So long, Mary.
Mary, we will miss you so!
So long, Mary,
How we hate to see you go!
We'll be longing for you, Mary,
While you roam.
So long, Mary,
Don't forget to come back home."

The incorrigible girl has just succeeded in convincing the boys that this classic was written by a personal friend of hers, to be sung as a farewell when she left for England three years ago!

"Aw, Miss Mary, can't you stay here more'n one day?" says Percival coaxingly. "This town's deader'n Goliath, but if you'd stay we could have a swell time. Gee, I wish you'd come fishin' with me an' Reg—we'd put the worms on the hook if you're scared! What's the use of goin' back to Winnipeg? There ain't no fun there—too many cops around to take a kid home if he only just goes for a walk."

"Say, Miss Mary," broke in Reginald, "was you ever in the Police Station? Me an' Perc was wunst when he was in Winnipeg. We just went down the street a little ways an' 'long comes a cop an' says, 'Say, son, does your mother know you're out?' An' I says, 'No, does yours?' An' he just laughed and ast us where did we live and we says Elba, an' then he says, 'Well, wouldn't youse kids like to take a walk with me?' An' then we went right to the P'lice Station, an' 'I'll eat my hat if them ain't the young divils a Mrs. Mills has been 'phoning about. Better have a good time when you're here, kids, because when your Ma gets you she'll be so darn glad that she'll well nigh lick the hides off of you.'"

"You bet she did, too," added Percival, with a reminiscent twinge.

Mary answered them, with deep regret, that she must go home as soon as I was called for, but she made them both promise to visit her when next they went to Winnipeg. Poor Mrs. Arnold.

But to go back. Yesterday at noon, after three hours of uneventful travel through uninteresting country, Mary and I reached Elba. I do not blame Napoleon for leaving his Elba as soon as possible if it was at all like its Canadian namesake. In spite of my unromantic nature, I had pictured the scene of my labours as a cosy farmhouse, nestling among tree-clad hills, where I should enjoy the freedom of Canadian life coupled with the comfort and refinement of England. But the picture vanished, never to return in its full beauty, when I saw Elba.

Flat prairie as far as I could see in three directions, and in the fourth a few scattered poplar bluffs, with the merciless noon-day sun searching out—as only the Canadian sun can—all the bareness and crudity of the little village that at first I scarcely noticed, so strong was the spell of the prairies upon me . . . that is, Elba.

The Corporate Village of Elba consists of three grain elevators (why "elevators" I cannot tell, for they are merely storehouses for corn—grain, I should say—but their dominating height draws all eyes to them, so them, so there is probably some phychological reason for the name); one "General Store," which I shall describe later; two agencies for agricultural machinery; a blacksmith's shop; a bank no larger than a good-sized packing-case—in fact, Mary looked for the address tag; and two or three houses. The station is a superannuated goods-van, one end of which is fitted up as an office and made impressive by the telegraph instrument, a copy of the Homestead Regulations, and a safe, and in the other end the stationmaster lives.

"The carriage waits, my lady," said Mary as we stepped off the train; and then I saw, at the end of the platform farthest from the engine, a typical western conveyance—a two-seated light wagon to which was harnessed a pair of handsome but only half-broken horses. The driver did not seem to be at all disturbed by the way in which they reared and plunged, for he talked over his shoulder to the stationmaster most of the time while the train waited, only occasionally addressing an uncomplimentary but apparently soothing remark to his horses.

My heart sank as I thought of trusting my precious life—to say nothing of my camera—to the tender mercies of such a careless driver and his Wild West Show steeds, but I hope I showed no timidity as I asked him if he were from the Fiske farm.

"No," he replied; "I don't think that any of the Fiskes are in town to-day."

"That is strange!" said I. "I telegraphed them to meet me."

At this the stationmaster turned to me. "There is a telegram for Mrs. Fiske lying in the office," he volunteered—"it has been there since yesterday morning; and if it is yours they will not know that you are coming to-day." Then, seeing my look of dismay, he added, "Their man will be in with butter to-morrow, and when he comes I'll tell him that you are here. We have a boarding-house in Elba now, where you will be safe but uncomfortable, and I guess you can put up with it for one night."

I looked at Mary and she looked at me, and then we both laughed. The men smiled in sympathy, and a bulldog that had been dozing on the platform wakened, and gazed at me with a condescending air that said, plainer than words, "I told you so." At last I realized that I was in the Canada of my dreams.

"Where is the boarding-house?" asked Mary. "Within walking distance, I presume?"

Without taking any notice of the reflection upon the size of Elba, the stationmaster picked up our bags and lifted them into the back of the wagon. "Livingstone, here, goes right past the house, and he can drive you over," he said.

"Livingstone" now awoke to a sense of his duty. "Yes, get right in. Sorry I'm not going Fiske's way, so that I could take you out."

Again I felt that England and the conventions were far away; but remembering old Jane's comforting proverb to the effect that you may as well be killed for a sheep as a lamb, and also realizing that there was really nothing else to do, I accepted the invitation and Mary and I "got right in."

Nervous Breakdown

The extreme depression and discouragement which comes over one at times is the most alarming symptom of nervous exhaustion.

This letter is a message of hope to all who find themselves in this unfortunate condition.

Mrs. Geo. T. Tingley, Albert, N.B., writes:—

"For years I was in a very nervous, run-down condition, was much depressed in spirits and suffered a great deal at times. The least noise would irritate me and at times I felt as though I certainly would go crazy. I consulted different doctors to no effect.

"A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and I can truly testify today to the great benefits received. There was a marked change before I had finished the second box and when I had used a dozen boxes my nerves were thoroughly restored and I was entirely relieved of those terrible feelings I used to have. I shall ever be ready to testify to the benefits of this wonderful medicine, feeling sure that it will give to others the quick and permanent relief it has given me."

G.W.V.A. Branches Installing Radio

Another branch of the G.W.V.A. in Saskatchewan has installed a radio receiving set for the amusement and instruction of members. The Wynyard G.W.V.A. has just put the finishing touches upon the equipment in its Memorial Hall. The Belleville, Ontario branch is also reported among those commands planning the installation of radiophones.

Memorial Cross Issue Extended

Wives and Mothers of Deceased Soldiers to Receive Medal Regardless of Date of Death

The Memorial Cross which heretofore has been available only to the wives and mothers of soldiers whose deaths resulted from active service prior to November 11th, 1920, will now be issued in respect of any man who dies as the result of active service, regardless of the date of death. A militia order has just been issued to this effect as the result of representations from the Ontario Provincial Command, G.W.V.A., strongly supported by Capt. H. A. Chadwick of the Records Branch, Department of National Defence.

The issue of the Memorial Cross in the first instance was prompted by the desire of the nation to provide some tangible recognition of the sacrifice of mothers who gave their sons in the defence of the nation. It was also made available to the wives of married deceased soldiers, but the issue was contingent upon death having occurred within two years of the signing of the Armistice. The new regulation makes provision for the issue of the Cross to those eligible on account of deaths which have occurred since November 11, 1920, and which were attributable to war service, and for such deaths that may occur in future.

The authorities have no means of securing accurate information concerning post-war deaths so it is necessary for those concerned to make application to the department for the issue of the medal. In the cases of soldiers who married after enlistment, and whose deaths occurred prior to or after discharge, both the wife and the mother are eligible to receive the Memorial Cross. G.W.V.A. branches will in future, as in the past, provide every assistance necessary, in this and other respects, to the relatives of deceased sildiers.

Ancient Rulers of Japan

The Oldest Reigning Royal Family in the World

It is the proud boast of the Japanese, that theirs is the oldest reigning Royal family in the world. Legend has it that the Imperial dynasty, after endless ages in Paradise, began its earthly reign in the seventh century before Christ, and, though authentic records do not date earlier than the sixth century of our era, it is certain that the present dynasty was in power at the dawn of history in the Japanese archipelago. It is little wonder, therefore that the Mikados' subjects have invested them with the attributes of divinity.

Grain Elevators in West

In 1910, when the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch of the Department of the Interior published a map showing the location of grain elevators in Western Canada there were 1,760 elevators in the three prairie provinces, with an aggregate capacity of 53,979,400 bushels. Today there are 3,840 elevators, with a total capacity of 128,482,420 bushels.

Saskatchewan's Butter Output

Figures compiled covering the year 1921 show that in that period 7,085,000 pounds of creamery butter were manufactured in Saskatchewan, of which 78.3 per cent. was graded by the official Government graders. Butter grading depots are maintained at Regina and Saskatoon, and assure for Saskatchewan butter high standard of quality and the best market prices.

Drop in B.C. Fisheries Production

Total value of the fisheries production of British Columbia for 1921 was $13,955,450, as compared with $22,239,101 in 1920, according to returns published by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics in conjunction with the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

This is the smallest return since 1914, the peak being reached in 1918, when the total was over $27,000,000.

"Just Like New York"

Old London Now Has a "Great White Way"

"Just like New York," the native boasts to his American visitor as he points out the glory of the New White Way which has sprung into existence in London within the past two years. Electric signs representing, among other products, mugs of foaming beer, glasses and bottles of wine that is red and otherwise, and various other alluring signs of light face the surprised trans-Atlantic visitant, and he is likely to reply with a sigh, "Just Like New York was once."

In 1919 there were visible from Piccadilly Circus less than half a dozen electric signs. Today there are hundreds of them, and Londoners point these out as prima facie evidence of the city's progressiveness.

The WISHING FAIRY by Corinne

Stella Tells Her Brownies a Story.

"TELL us a 'make believe' story, Stella, dear," Pimzie begged the Wishing Fairy one day when he and the other three Brownies were grouped around her in the warm sunshine, "and make it up."

"What shall it be about?" she asked, with a smile.

"Oh, anything!" answered Pimzie. "Anything you happen to think of. A black swan." Which for some unexplained reason was the first thing that popped into his mind.

"Very, well," laughed Stella, at the same time thinking hard. "A black swan it shall be . . . or rather, two of them."

There was a long pause, while the little Fairy collected her thoughts, and the four Brownies wriggled around and arranged themselves in comfortable positions. At last she began.

"Once upon a time," she said, "there lived a very wicked Prince in an enormous castle which was completely surrounded by a moat."

"What's a moat?" Snookums asked.

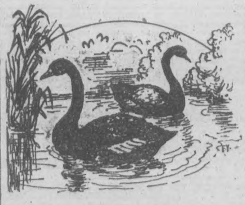
"A deep water filled ditch. It encircled the castle, cutting it off from the mainland. A drawbridge was let down from the gate of the castle whenever anyone wished to leave or enter it. In olden times almost all castles had moats, for in those days there was even more lawlessness than now amongst Humans. Well, to go back to our story, the wicked Prince Carl (for that was his name) had a wife, the Princess Ella, who was just as bad as he, which is saying a lot!

"Goodness," exclaimed Kinkajou. "How were they bad? What did they do?"

"There was nothing in the way of wickedness they wouldn't do," Stella answered. "Lies, theft and even murder meant nothing wrong to them. Prince Carl used to arm his followers with long lances (in those days there were no firearms) and they would ride forth to plunder and rob, so that before long his castle was filled with countless treasure and gold.

"If some weary traveller were overtaken by night and sought shelter in his castle, Princess Elsa would show all kindness and hospitality and give plentifully of food and drink, and when the unsuspecting and grateful guest was asleep, Prince Carl in the middle of the night would kill and rob him and throw his body in a deep hole.

"One day an old man, bent and worn, who had ridden for many miles, came to the castle. They both offered him every kindness, and he thanked them and told them that his sack contained the most wonderful thing in the world. He also added that in the morning he would repay them in a way they did not expect. They glanced at one another as though to say there would be no morning for him, and left him for the night. After several hours, when they felt sure he was sound asleep, they returned to kill him and to take the sack; for, of course, they thought it was full of gold jewels.



"The old man, however, met them at the door of his room with upraised hand and it seemed as though he were encircled by a great strong light. The Prince and Princess stood in amazement as the old man advanced, they heard his words as though in a dream, and felt so weak and faint that they were powerless to move, when suddenly—

Next week's story will tell what happened and how this really is a story about two black swans, though you would not think so! Would you?

Seed Oats from Alberta

Half a Million Bushels of Seed Oats Shipped from Alberta During Past Year

The value of northern grown seeds has long been known to seedsmen, and is gradually coming home to farmers generally. This is shown by the growing demand for seed grains from the prairie provinces for use elsewhere. It has just been announced by officials of the Dominion Seed Branch that about half a million bushels of seed oats were shipped out of Alberta during the past year. The Provincial Department of Agriculture is planning an extensive campaign for the encouragement of seed production.

Quick Work in Germany

Tree Being Transformed Into Newsprint Paper Within a Single Day

Trees on which birds warbled their morning song are turned into newsprint paper and sold as midday editions on the same day in certain towns of the Harz district, says the Papierfabrikant, the leading German papermakers' organ.

The exact time taken in the process is 3 hours 25 minutes. The trees were felled at 7.35 a.m.; pulped and turned into paper by 9.39, rushed in a motor truck two and one-half miles to the printing office and at 11 o'clock newspaper boys were crying the local sheet on the streets.

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in digestion. There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving this trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunette, Immaculate Conception, Que., writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Nothing New in Liner Luxury

Inventiveness of Designer Seems to Have Reached Limit

The steamer Majestic of the White Star Line, is the largest ship in the world, both in lines and tonnage. Her length is 956 feet, makes her 6 feet longer than the Leviathan and her tonnage is 1,700 greater than that of the Leviathan.

The most remarkable thing about this new giantess, however, is something that is negative. According to the dispatches from the other side, the Majestic, which is the first great passenger steamship built since the end of the war, offers little new in luxury. She has everything that the imagination and ingenuity of man can provide for the seagoer, but no great innovation can be inventoried Suites de luxe, swimming pools, gymnasiums—all these she has, but all these are familiar to the traveler who has used any one of the finest half dozen of the liners.

Has the inventiveness of the steamship designer come to the end of the road? If there were anything new the Majestic should wear it, for in her are the British pride of ownership and the German pride of workmanship; for the Majestic, when her keel was laid, eight years ago, was intended to be the Bismarck. A ship like this boasts everything in the way of comfort and pleasure that its size permits; nothing seems lacking except a regulation baseball field and golf links.

Speed used to be the constantly improving quality of ocean steamers, but the builders cannot hope to get much more out of the engines of the floating hotels than the twenty-five knots shown by the Majestic in her trials. For speed we look to the airplanes; the Santa Maria roared up from Havana to New York the other day in seventeen and a half hours, which is three or four times as fast as any steamship could make the journey.

And, after all, even if it could be done, what would be the joy of steaming to Europe in a day or two. Nobody can learn shuffleboard thoroughly in such a short time.—From the New York Herald.

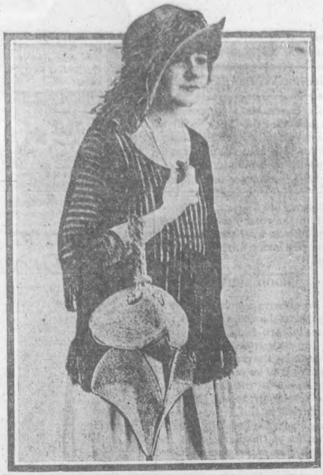
Feathers, Fringe and a Bag to Match Milady's Chapeau!



Fringe! There is nothing new about fringes. It has been used in every way and in every place under the sartorial sun, but so firm a place has it won in our affections that we must have at least a bit of it on some garment in our wardrobe. On the overblouse of spring it lends an attractive finish to the bottom, as well as to the sleeves. It gives a suggestion of grace to whatever it embellishes.

And feathers! As elaboration their use dates back no further than the Garden of Eden, but Milady 1922 affects them as often as she possibly can and loves them just as dearly as did Eve.

Neither is there anything particularly novel in the matching of the hat and the bag, but it is a pleasing fancy and one which is revived annually when March goes out like a lamb.

A Few of the World's Lofty Peaks

Some of Nature's Most Gigantic Works Along Line of C.P.R.

The Canadian Pacific Rockies comprise some of Nature's most gigantic works. This can better be visualized when it is said that in the various mountain ranges that make up the Canadian Pacific Rockies, there are, according to Government measurement, no less than 598 mountain peaks over 5,000 feet in height above sea level. The Government list include only those peaks which bear names, and it does not profess to include the innumerable mountains that have not been named or measured. Of those listed there are 512 over 7,000 feet, 405 over 8,000 feet, 291 over 9,000 feet, 147 over 10,000 feet, 44 over 11,000 feet, 3 over 12,000 feet and 1 over 13,000 feet.

A great many of these majestic peaks are visible from the train, while others may be explored at leisure during the stay at the many beautiful resorts such as Banff, Lake Louise and Glacier.

Low summer tourist tickets are on sale daily to Vancouver, Victoria and other Pacific Coast points, which allow stop-over at any or all of the mountain resorts.

The trip through the Canadian Pacific Rockies to the Pacific Coast ranks among the finest in the world, with nature at her best during the summer months.

Four trans-continental trains each way daily will be operated by the Canadian Pacific Railway this summer through the Rockies, each equipped with open top observation cars. This service will include Canada's finest and fastest trans-continental train "The Trans-Canada Limited."

Marquis Calms Baby's Cries

The Marquis of Aberdeen was rudely interrupted during an address to the Scottish Mothers Union in Ellen, Aberdeenshire, by a crying baby. The crowd fidgeted as the outburst grew, everybody wondering what the Marquis would do, because he couldn't make himself heard.

At length he stepped from the platform, took the child from its mother's arms, carried it to and fro, coddled and caressed it, quelled the storm and returned the child to its mother. The he remounted the platform and continued his address in peace.

HEART WOULD BEAT LIKE A TRIP HAMMER

Heart trouble has of late years become very prevalent. Sometimes a pain catches you in the region of the heart, now and then your heart skips beats, palpitates, throbs, or beats with such rapidity and violence you think it is going to burst.

You have weak and dizzy spells, sinking sensations, are nervous, irritable and depressed, and if you attempt to walk upstairs or any distance you get all out of breath.

We know of no remedy that will do so much to make the heart regain strength and vigor, regulate its beat and restore it to a healthy normal condition as will

A friend suggested I try Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, so I procured three boxes, and by the time the first one was used I began to improve. In all I took six boxes, and now although in my 66th year I feel like a young girl; no dizziness or heart-thumping, and can walk miles without fatigue. ### DON'T SIGN PAPERS

During the past week it has been brought to our attention that some farmers throughout the district are being pressed by creditors to sign documents of various kinds in connection with their liabilities.

In this connection we would remind farmers that the "Relief Act," passed at the last session of the legislature, is now in effect. This act provides for the appointment of a commission whose duty it is to adjust such cases as above referred to. This commission is to the farmers much like what the Finance Commission is to the towns and villages which are passing through financial difficulties.

Mr. Fream, who is head of the commission appointed under the Relief Act, strongly advises farmers not to sign documents of any kind without first writing to him, giving full particulars of the circumstances.

Farmers would, therefore, be well advised to give this matter their careful attention if they wish to be in a position to take full advantage of the act passed in their behalf.

OUR LOCAL MEMBER

W. C. Smith, member for this constituency in the local legislature, is following along the right lines by making periodical trips through the riding and keeping in touch with the needs, views and troubles of his constituents. Last week he visited the northern districts and stopped at several places en route. His primary object on this occasion was to organize the outlying districts for road work this summer, but he took advantage of the occasion to visit officials of U.F.A. locals and interview leading citizens in the towns and villages along his line of travel. This is a good idea and shows that Mr. Smith realizes his responsibility as the representative of a large and scattered constituency which has many and varied question to solve.

AN IMPROVEMENT

There is little doubt that the system of roadwork adopted by the present government for use in the rural districts is a vast improvement over the old system. By the new system the services of the old district road foremen, who were engaged the year round, have been dispensed with, and the money saved in this way is put on the roads.

Another improvement is that the responsibility for laying out the district and saying where the work shall be done, rests with the people most concerned, and all the work is under the supervision of an experienced engineer, who does the work of several road foremen under the old system.

Under this arrangement it is only reasonable to suppose and expect that the work will be more economically and judiciously done and that the province as a whole will benefit by it.

We are informed that the several locals throughout this constituency are taking a keen interest in the road work this year and already have their organization well under way for this season.

GOOD SERVICE

Progressive members at Ottawa are to be congratulated on the stubborn fight they put up in the committee appointed to investigate the crow's Nest agreement. It is largely, if not altogether due to their efforts that the rate on grain and flour as stipulated in the old agreement remains unchanged. By the continuance of this agreement, so far as they refer to these commodities, a saving of from 3c to 6c a bushel on wheat will be saved to the western farmers.

Progressive members were not slow in seeing a way by which they could force parliament to listen to their requests. Nor were the other members of the committee slow in realizing that the Progressives had the situation well in hand. For this reason they lost no time in getting in touch with railway officials and making arrangements for the granting of the request of western Progressives.

If this had not been done parliament would not likely have been able to prorogue as early as it would like.

The Progressives at Ottawa have rendered good service to the farmers of the prairie provinces.

The Principles of The Drought Relief Act

The object of the government in passing the legislation known as the "Drought Area Relief Act" was that of providing the machinery and enabling resident farmers coming within the scope of the act to get together with their creditors and reach an amicable settlement of their financial difficulties, and at the same time assure to farmers the opportunity of providing food and other equipment for their family sufficient to carry them along until the fall of 1923.

The legislation can also be considered as an outcome of the report made to the Government by the Southern Alberta Survey Board, and is a definite attempt to improve conditions generally in the area reported upon by that board.

SCOPE OF ACT.

The underlying principles of the Drought Area Relief Act include the establishment, by proclamation, of the territory coming within the Act, and the appointment of a Commissioner to have general supervision and administration of the Act; division of the area into districts and the appointment of Deputy Commissioners to assist and act in such matters as may be delegated by the Commissioner.

The proclamation has been issued, defining the area, and appointing Mr. E. J. Fream, of Calgary, as the Commissioner, while it is expected that the area will be divided into districts corresponding as far as possible to the Judicial Districts of the Province, with the appointment of deputies, probably from the Court Officials, for such districts. This will mean the division of the area into the districts of Macleod, Lethbridge, Taber, Medicine Hat and Hanna.

DUTIES OF COMMISSIONER.

The Commissioner is required to endeavor to adjust matters between residents in the area and their creditors, so as to provide for the satisfaction of the just claims of the creditors without recourse to legal proceedings as far as possible, and in doing this the Commissioner has power to summon witnesses and to require them to give evidence on oath, orally or in writing, or on solemn declaration, and to produce such documents as may be deemed requisite for a full investigation of the matters into which he is authorized to enquire.

This means that if the Commissioner is investigating the financial condition of any resident farmer feels it necessary to put either the debtor or any of his creditors on oath he may do so, and it provides the opportunity of seeing that the proceeds of this year's crop are handled with the idea of distributing same as fairly as possible without recourse to the law courts. It also opens the way, in all probability, in some cases to a compromise which hsould be satisfactory to all parties concerned.

SPECIAL RELIEF

There is one clause in the Act which is very important, but which may be overlooked. This provides that in order to secure any debt contracted since April 1st, 1922, for seed, twine and farm lobar used in the production of this year's crop, and for food and clothing of the debtor, mortgages or encumbrances may be given to an amount not exceeding $500.00, notwithstanding the provisions of any other act.

This is very important in ditsricts where the Government had to give relief during the winter, as it should enable the farmer to borrow from a bank by giving a mortgage or lien on his crop, and thereby secure financial help at a very critical time which, otherwise, he may not be able to get. It is suggested, however, that it would be advisable for any farmer contemplating securing advances of this kind to just take the matter up with the Commissioner and secure his advice thereon.

EXEMPTIONS FROM SEIZURE

Power is given to the Commissioner to issue certificates in ravor of any debtor, certifying that such debotr is entitled to certain exemptions from seizure over and above those allowed in the Exemptions Ordinance, if he is satisfied that it is in the interest of the debtor to do this, and this exemption may be made to include sufficient seed grain to take care of the 1923 crop.

PROPERTY SEIZURES

Provision is made whereby the Lieutenant Governor in Council can, by proclamation, if necessary, stay all proceedings of every kind except where a judge has granted leave to one creditor, acting on behalf of all others, to start action. This should prevent a multitude of legal actions this fall, and therefore eliminate considerable expense. Even in such cases, however, the Commissioner has the power to make application to the judge, without notice to any other party, that a Receiving Order be issued appointing the Commission receiver for the whole crop. Provision is also made to do this if it is thought that the farmer is not trying to do the right thing. This should be of considerable assistance and not only farmers but their creditors also should be encouraged to make application to the Commissioner for enquiry into the affairs of any debtor.

THOSE COMING UNDER THE ACT

The Act specifies that a reisdent means a person who has been resident and actively engaged in farming operations in the drought area, setablished by proclamation, for one year prior to January 1st, 1922, and who continues to be so resident and engaged.

Farmers who have had any trouble with their creditors, or who anticipate that troublt might arise, will find it to their interest to communicate at once with the Commissioner at Calgary so that he can make inquiry into the circumstances, and it would be advisable when writing, to mention the land owned or occupied, so that the Commissioner can check up at once whether the land is included in the drought relief area.

It may probably be thought that this work will apply only to those resident within the drought relief area, and while this is true as far as it relates to the provisions of the Act itself still there is a strong probability that the Commissioner my, by advice and recommendation and by consultation with the creditors of such farmers, be able to ossist materially many who really do not come within the scope of the Act.

It would be a good idea to write the Commissioner anyway and find out just how the whole matter stands.

NEED FOR IMMEDIATE ACTION

One point which should be emphasized is the need for immediate action on the part of those intending to avail themselves of the provisions of the Act, and it is recommended that the farmer or his creditor should at once take the matter in hand, so there will be plenty of time to check up all the work.

If application is made at once, the Commissioner will be able to attend to all the details of the case and, with the proper spirit of co-operation and confidence, arrive at a settlement or understanding which should be satisfactory to all parties concerned. If too much time elapses before such application is made it will mean that harvest will be here, that the grain is ready to market and that no agreement has been made. In such cases it is reasonable to suppose that dissatisfaction and unnecessary expense will ensue. It is just as easy to take this in hand at once, and the suggestion has been made that it is better to have the applications in the hands of the Commissioner before August 15th next

The Weed Campaign

Municipal districts throughout the province are intimating their readiness to co-operate with the weed branch of the department of agriculture in a general campaign for weed eradication. Letters are being received by the weed branch which indicate that the municipalities are coming into line in splendid shape in the organization to clean the province of weeds.

During the past week the appointment was announced of Harold Wooster of Namaka, as divisional superintendent of weed inspectors for southern Alberta. Mr. Wooster has been acting as inspector for the Lethbridge district. A divisional supe-intendent for the northern districts will be appointed shortly.

The department of agriculture is endeavoring to perfect community organization in the weed campaign by enlisting the co-operation of farmers, and organizations of all kinds, as well as the railway companies and municipalities.

The convention of government weed inspectors held at Claresholm was a great success. All government inspectors of the south were present, as well as a number of municipal inspectors. Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, took occasion during the convention to address a public meeting on better farming. To the weed inspectors W. J. Stephen, Crop Commissioner, spoke on the Weed Act and the problems arising out of the Act. J. C. Hooper, principal Claresholm Agricultural School, spoke on the identification of weeds and weed seeds, and had some very fine specimens, both mounted and freshly collected. F. S. Grisdale, of the Olds School, spoke on systems of eradicating weeds, and Mr. Walker, manager of the Claresholm Farm, spoke on cultivation. Dr. Talbot, Provincial Veterinarian, spoke on the identification of poisonous weeds, how they act on livestock, and the antidote. S. G. Carlyle, Livestock Commissioner, spoke on the relation of livestock to better farming. Harold Wooster gave a paper on the organization in the districts, and Howard Wright, of Airdrie, gave a paper on the duties and responsibilities of weed inspectors. There was a very lively discussion on all subjects. A similar convention was held at Olds last week, at which similar addresses were given, and at which H. A. Craig, Deputy Minister of Agriculture, spoke in place of Hon. Geo. Hoadley.

New Labor Commissioner

Announcement has been made by Hon. Alex. Ross, Minister of Public Works and Labor, of the appointment of Walter Smitten, of Calgary, to be commissioner of labor for Alberta, under the act passed at last session creating a labor bureau. Mr. Smitten will assume his duties at once. His first duties will be to organize the bureau of labor. It is the object of the government to co-ordinate all labor legislation which will come under the jurisdiction of the new department. Mr. Smitten has been secretary of the Alberta Federation of Labor for a number of years, and is known as one of the best authorities in the province and in the dominion on labor matters. He has been a member of several boards of conciliation and was a member of the minimum wage board of the province.

A good deal of summer-fallow is being undertaken this year, according to reports from southern Alberta. M. L. Freng, agricultural agent at Lethbridge, reports considerable summerfallo wbeing done in excellent manner. The practice of cropping off the land in strips to prevent soil drifting has also been carried out this year north of Lethbridge to a considerable extent. Stripping of fallow with corn and oats is alho being carried out.

The Grasshoppers

Campaigns against the grasshopper are proving very effective in southern Alberta. The need of continued effort is emphasized, however, and also the necessity of economizing in bait where possible. It has come to the attention of the Agricultural Department that many are placing bait during the afternoon. This has been found to be a waste of bait. The proper time to place bait is generally between 6.30 and 9 in the morning. It has been found also that proportions of 2-3rd sawdust and 1-3 bran is having good results. It has also been found possible to cut down the amount of molasses to an amount not exceeding two quarts to every 100 lbs. of dry material, increasing the proportion of salt to 5 lbs. If these proportions are used in mixing bait, economy can be effected, and just as good results obtained.

Women's Institutes.

The convention of women's institutes held at Calgary was the most successful in the history of the organization. Over 300 delegates were in attendance. One of the chief speakers was Hon. Geo. Hoadley, Minister of Agriculture, who explained the new status of the women's institutes under the amendments passed last session, and who declared the intention of his department to continue to aid the institutes in extending their efforts. The government in the new amendments had merely made provision for all women's societies to have an opportunity of having extension work. The department, while it no longer would pay the expenses of all delegates of the institutes to the annual convention, had this year paid the expenses of the advisory board and provincial convenors of committees. Mr. Hoadley said the advisory board would be consulted whenever changes in legislation affecting the institutes was in contemplation. Miss Macmillan, Director of Extension Work, declared her desire to asisst in furthering the work of the Institutes and in assisting them as well as other women's societies in doing valuable community work. She said that her desire was to see the office of the extension service used as an information bureau for all women's societies, especially those in rural districts. A very interesting program of addresses was delivered during the convention.

A trans-Canada highway from Halifax to Vancouver is stated to be the object of the Canadian Automobile Association by Dr. P. E. Doolittle, president of the organization. The first and immediate aim of the Association, Dr. Doolittle stated, will be the decision of a route between Winnipeg and Vancouver. Later will follow the planning of the route east from Winnipeg.

A MEMORIAL TO A GREAT EXPLORER

Trading post and fort of Indian days, with stockade and bastions, to be erected on the shore of Lake Windermere, B.C., near where David Thompson built Kootenai House, the first trading post established west of the Rockies.

MENTION of the name of David Thompson would convey little meaning to the average Canadian, and yet no one did more in his day to open up new trade routes through the hitherto unknown defiles of the Canadian Rockies and to apply scientific map making to the geographical exploration of the West. His day was over a hundred years ago, when the trade of the West was entirely a fur trade and almost entirely in the hands of two great Companies, the Hudson's Bay Company, with headquarters in England, and the North-West Company, with headquarters in Montreal. David Thompson was a charity school boy who went out to Canada in 1784 at the age of fourteen years to take service in the Hudson's Bay Company. Thirteen years later he joined the rival North-West Company, which offered him greater facilities for survey and exploration. The first trading post established by a white man West of the Rockies in what is now known as British Columbia was erected by David Thompson, on the shores of Lake Windermere, in July, 1807, and the opening up to civilization of the Columbia and Kootenay Rivers was largely due to his enterprise during the succeeding years. All this time he was making surveys and supplying the foundation for the Government and railway maps of to-day. From 1816 to 1826 he was engaged by the British Government in surveying and defining the boundary line between Canada and the United States from Lower Canada to the Lake of the Woods. At the age of eighty-seven he died in poverty at Montreal, where his remains lie buried without a monument in Mount Royal Cemetery. Yet so accurate were his records and surveys that when in 1857 the Canadian Government desired to publish a map of Western Canada, they had to fall back on the map made by David Thompson in 1813.

While he was engaged as a fur trader, says his biographer, Mr. J. B. Tyrrell, Thompson travelled more than 50,000 miles in canoes, on horseback, and on foot through what was then an unmapped country. His ambition was to determine and delineate the physical features of the whole of North-Western America. His surveys were not merely rough sketches, but were careful traverses made by a master in the art, short courses being taken with a magnetic compass, the variation of which was constantly determined, distances being estimated by the time taken to travel them, and the whole checked by numerous astronomical observations for latitude and longitude.

"Typical of him," says Mr. Tyrrell, "was his attitude towards the trading of spirituous liquors to the Indians. He was a strong opponent of the liquor traffic; and while he was in charge of the western posts no alcoholic liquors were allowed to be taken to them. The years in which Thompson was in the West were perhaps the period in which this debasing trade was at its worst. Rival companies were vying with each other for the furs; and cheap spirits were regarded by the traders as the most profitable sort of barter. Such, however, was not Thompson's view. He believed that the use of intoxicating liquor in trade was a short-sighted policy."

As a tribute to the work of David Thompson, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Hudson's Bay Company are co-operating in the erection of a David Thompson Memorial Building on the shores of Lake Windermere, close to the site of the original trading post named Kootenai House which the explorer established in 1807.

This building will take the form of a Hudson's Bay Fort with stockades and bastions and will be used partly as a museum for local Indian relics and antiquities, and partly as a recreation hall for Lake Windermere Camp, an attractive summer resort which has sprung up in that neighborhood. The formal opening of this memorial building is being arranged for September 1st, and will be accompanied by an Indian Pageant A number of historians and those interested in the early exploration of the West are expected to be present.

CYCLONE DOES CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE IN MANITOBA

PORTAGE LA PRAIRIE IS CENTRE OF WIND, RAIN AND HAIL STORM — TWO MILLION DOLLARS DAMAGE IN CITY—CROPS AND FARM BUILDINGS RUINED—THREE ARE KILLED

Last Friday morning a terrific wind, rain and hail storm passed over Manitoba, doing damage running into millions of dollars.

The cyclone appears to have settled in and around the city of Portage la Prairie. In that city conservative estimates place the damage at approximately $2,000,000.

It is impossible to calculate the property damage caused in the province, but if the Portage estimate is anywhere near accurate, the aggregate loss will probably run to nearly $3,000,000, as the destruction of property in Winnipeg is said to run into the hundreds of thousands,

Farmers in the Portage district, wher ecrops are reported to have been literally cut down by hail, were registering their claims with insurance companies with which they had taken out policies, and it is believed the majority affected had protected themselves against the elements. But city property owners will in most cases have to bear the loss themselves, as it is not a general practice to take advantage of "tornado" risks, according to local companies. The ordinary fire insurance poicy mentions that it does not protect the property owner in the case of damage caused through acts of God.

The report from Portage, tells of the city at the mercy or the great forces. Hundreds of thousands of dollars worth of damage has been done. The Forsyth grain elevator was struck by lightning and destroyed; the plant of th eCockshutt Plow Company was blown down; the Presbyterian, Methodist and Anglican churches are roofless and wrecked. Hotels were blown down in heaps. Buildings in all quarters of the town are as though they had been dynamited, and giant trees are uprooted everywhere.

Box cars in the yards broke loose, and one travelled east two miles on the main line of the Canadian Pacific before it collided with an incoming freight.

Farmers report ruin throughout the countryside. More than 70 applications for relief under policies have been received by one insurance firm. It is believed that the crops in the district have been practically ruined. The hail cut off the grain level with the ground and fields close to the city present a battered appearance. Considerable hail insurance was carried by the farmers. The damage to farm houses was not very severe, but damage to barns is reported 100 per cent. A heavy loss of stock is also reported.

There were three deaths as a result of the hurricane.

Important Soccer Game Here Tomorrow Night

REDCLIFF AND VETS MEET IN GAME ON WHICH DESTINATION OF LEAGUE TROPHY FOR SEASON MAY DEPEND—BIG FOLLOWING OF VETS' SUPPORTERS EXPECTED TO COME WITH THE TEAM

Tomorrow (Friday) night, one of the most important games remaining to be played in the league series of the senior football division is slated to be decided. The Vets of Medicine Hat will pay their first visit to the Cliff this season, and excitement in their camp is at fever heat as to the outcome of this game, which is of most vital importance to the Vets.

At the present time the Vets are leading the league series by one point over the Indians, with the same number of games to play. In order for them to keep in the running it is almost necessary for them to secure both the points at issue in this game, to continue in the lead, seeing that thy still have to meet the Indians in the same series, when anything is liable to happen.

The locals have met the Vets twice this season on the Medicine Hat field, and each time have come away with a draw to their credit. On this showing the locals should capture both the points, but it will be a battle all the way.

Both teams will trot out their strongest lineup possible, and a great crowd should turn out to witness the fun. It is hoped that spectators will please remember that it costs money even to run a football team, and that a bumper collection will be the reward of the footballers for their efforts in keeping soccer football on the map for Redcliff during the season. The kickoff will take place at 6.45.

Happenings in soccer circles during the past week have not been such as to set the fans wild with delight. On Thursday last the juniors met the Medicine Hat Washers in a league fixture, and for the first time this season had to bow the knee before a home crowd, and at the same time considerably lessened their chances of capturing league honors this season. Only one goal was scored, and it must be said that it went to the best team on the night's play. The locals were all at sixes and sevens, and try as they would they could not do the right thing with the chances that cropped up tehir way. The visiting forwards were a better lot than the homesters, especially in the second half, when they kept their places and combined better than the home team. The win put the Washers on a tie with Redcliff for first place but both the Moose and Knox have chance to pass them.

Last Friday night the seniors paid a visit to the Vets in a cup game, and were successful in securing a point. Indeed on the play they were value for both points, but like the juniors would not accept the chances offered. It was not a game to arouse the spectators to any wild pitch of enthusiasm, the forwards of both sides giving the defences a pretty easy time. Evidently they were feeling one another out in view of the great game tomorrow night, although a win for the Vets would have given them a great chance of completing the double bill.

WASHERS BEAT MOOSE

Following up their win over the Redcliff juniors last week, the Washers met the Moose on Monday night and incidentally gave them an awful jolt by defeating them in a league game by two goals to none. This win places the Washers in the lead for league honors. There remaining game in this serie sis with Redcliff at Medicine Hat on July 14, and will no doubt be a red hot affair.

INDIANS BEAT CALLIES

The Indians moved a step forward last night in their endeavor to capture one of the soccer cups for this season.

Playing the Callies in a cup game they were successful in defeating their opponents by the odd goal in seven. This gives them a clear lead of two points in this series, and unless something unusual crops up, the Big Chief should be rewarded for his many years of hard work in pushing soccer forward in this district.

EXTEND LIMIT FOR SALE OF OLEOMARGARINE

Hon. W. R. Motherwell, minister of agriculture, intends to bring down in the house a bill which will permit the manufacture and importation of oleomargarine until August 31, 1923, and "offering for sale, sale and having in possession for sale," of oleomargarine until March 1, 1924. This is an extension of one year.

ROYAL YEAST CAKES

Product of Canada

It was known many years ago that yeast is an excellent thing for the many ills that result from disordered stomach or rundown blood condition. Lately eminent scientists have been investigating the matter thoroughly and their conclusions point to the fact that the beneficial effect of yeast has not been overrated. The yeast treatment is very simple and economical - and altogether harmless.

Before each meal eat a Royal Yeast Cake, or take a cake dissolved in water or fruit juices. The scientific investigators say that the curative elements in Royal Yeast are the vitamines and nuclein which it contains. It is certainly well worth a fair trial by those who suffer from any of the ailments mentioned above.

Remodel The Constitution

Just as the spur of necessity forced governments all over the world to increase taxation in order to raise enormous war revenues and to meet interest charges of ever mounting war debts, so necessity now demands the inauguration of every safe and business-like reform calculated to bring about a reduction in national expenditures and thereby make possible a lowering of taxation. High taxation is today throttling all industrial and commercial enterprise and is operating as a clog on the wheels of business, hampering the provision of adequate and remunerative employment for tens of thousands of people, and retarding a return to pre-war prosperity.

There is opportunity for the inauguration of economies in public administration in Canada through a revision, a remodelling, of some of the provisions of the national constitution as it governs the relations between the Federal Government and the several Provincial Governments.

Canadian taxpayers today are called upon to bear the expense of nine Government departments of agriculture, one in each province and one for the Dominion as a whole. There is inevitably an enormous amount of overlapping in effort and waste in expenditure. Inasmuch as agricultural conditions and needs vary greatly throughout the Dominion it is probably necessary to have Provincial departments devoted to the encouragement of agriculture, but with each Province looking after its own requirements in this respect, where does the need exist for a Dominion department? It could very well be done away with, a substantial saving effected, and no outstanding loss to the industry of agriculture result. Yet the Canadian constitution gives jurisdiction to both Federal and Provincial Governments concerning agriculture.

Then there is over-lapping in connection with such subjects as insurance, with the result that we find departments at Ottawa and in the Provincial capitals, fully staffed, compiling insurance data and statistics, enforcing inspections of one kind and another, collecting fees from companies, which, of course, the people in the final analysis have to pay, while Parliament on the one hand and Provincial Legislatures on the other are busy enacting new laws and regulations governing the conduct of the business of insurance.

Much the same thing is true in connection with laws concerning the incorporation, management, taxation, etc., of Companies during business throughout the Dominion. There is a constant conflict in legislation and authority, and the courts are full of actions and appeals to decide where the authority of the Dominion ends and that of the Provinces begins, or vice versa. Constant recourse is had to the Privy Council in London to decide these knotty questions, for all of which the people of Canada ultimately pay.

Step by step Provinces have in recent years encroached upon what was formerly regarded as the exclusive right of the Federal Parliament to legislate in the matter of Banks and banking. Farm Loan Boards are essentially a form of banking, taking the money of people on deposit in the form of bonds and debentures and re-loaning the proceeds, while in Ontario and Manitoba the Provincial Governments have actually established Provincial savings banks. Even admitting that such action has been forced on the Provinces through the failure of the Federal Parliament to revise the Bank Act in order to make it meet conditions in these Provinces, rather than leave it as it is, chiefly of benefit to manufacturing industry and the larger concerns of finance and commerce ,the fact remains that we are heading for further duplication and waste in effort, with consequent increased expenditure.

The Canadian constitution needs clarifying. There is need for a sharper, more clear-cut definition of the powers of each of our legislative bodies, Federal and Provincial. There should be reduction to an absolute minimum of those subjects in regard to which both have jurisdiction. Many subjects should either be left absolutely and solely to the Dominion, or in like manner to the Provinces. Even in the matter of divorce we have Provincial courts granting them, and Parliament—whose time should really not be taken up with such matters—engaged in the same work.

We would like to see Premier Mackenzie King take firm hold of this question of a revision of the constitution and call a conference of Provincial Premiers and Attorneys-General to meet with the Federal ministers in a well defined and sincere attempt to simplify the constitution and evolve one more in keeping with the present-day conditions and the requirements of the Dominion. Aside from large savings in administration costs which could unquestionably be effected, there is the even more important fact that less confusion and litigation would exist, and greater efficiency in public service result.

English Specialists Say Times Are Hard

People Cannot Afford to Have Fashionable Ailments

A financial wind that gets chillier and chillier is blowing along Harley Street, that imposing but rather affrighting thoroughfare where every door bears the brass plate of a specialist in one or other of the many ills that flesh is heir to. The specialists are complaining bitterly of hard times. People, they say, cannot afford to be seriously ill nowadays, or else they are content with the ministrations of their family doctor, which come a god deal cheaper. This certainly seems a little ungrateful, for if Harley Street does cost you a little more you get a great deal extra for your money.

For instance, you get the pleasant thrill of having the door opened to you by a butler whose dignity and impressiveness cannot be surpassed in either Belgravia or Mayfair; again, you get a period of suspenseful waiting in a most charmingly furnished ante-chamber, and, finally, you have the pleasure of being received by a very charming doctor, who is just as likely as not to tell you that you are the proud victim of quite the very latest fashionable ailment of the moment. And all this, mind you, for a paltry three guineas. No wonder Harley Street is feeling aggrieved at the way in which people are neglecting it.—Overseas Daily Mail.

The Largest Coin

Large Coins Were Commonly Used in Sweden in Olden Days

Probably the largest coin in the world is one belonging to Farren Zerbe, internationally famous expert on rare coins. It is a piece of stamped copper plate 10 inches square and weighs six and one-half pounds. It has a value of "4 daler" (the daler was a coin of varying value) stamped on it, and the date 1730. Such coins were commonly used in Sweden for some time during and after the wars of Charles XII. It is a part of a collection of more than 30,000 specimens, representing mediums of exchange of all countries and periods from the earliest times to the present day. The total face, or original exchange, value of the collection is counted in millions, but no present value has ever been placed on it. Many of the coins are, of course, rare and of much greater value than their face.—East and West.

Alberta's Rapid Growth

Statistics just compiled show that the urban population of the area included in Alberta has grown in twenty years from 18,533 to 222,904, an average increase of about 10,000 per year. During the same year the rural population has been increasing at an average rate of 15,500 per year.

PALE, WEAK GIRLS AND DELICATE WOMEN

Can Find New Health by Enriching Their Blood Supply

Nature intended every girl and every woman to be happy, active and healthy. Yet too many of them find their lives saddened by suffering—nearly always because their blood is to blame. All those unhappy girls and women with colorless cheeks, dull skins, and sunken lusterless eyes, are in this condition because they have not enough red blood in their viens to keep them well and in the charm of health. They suffer from depressing weariness and periodical headaches. Dark lines form under their eyes, their heart palpitates violently after the slightest exertion, and they are often attacked with fainting spells. These are only a few of the miseries of bloodlessness. When the bolod becomes thin and watery it can be enriched through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and the troubles that come from poor blood disappear. In almost every neighborhood you will find some formerly ailing woman, or pale breathless girl who has a good word to say for this medicine. Among them there is Miss Laura Monaghan, Campbellton, P.E.I., who says:—"Before using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was in a badly run down condition. I was pale, thin and scarcely able to go about. The least exertion made my heart palpitate so violently that I actually was afraid one of those spells might carry me off. Often my nights were sleepless, and as the treatment I was taking did not help me I was almost in despair. Finally a friend advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in the course of a few weeks after beginning this treatment there was a decided improvement in my condition. I continued using the pills, and am now enjoying good health. I am glad to give you my experience in the hope that some other sufferer may find the way to better health."

These pills are sold by all medicine dealers or may be had by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Queer Way of Judging Height

A peculiar method of judging the height of a standing tree is used by some of the Indians of South America. From the base of the tree a man proceeds to a point where on turning his back towards it and putting his head between his legs, he can just see the top; at the spot where he is able to do this he makes a mark on the ground, and the distance betwen this spot and the base of the tree will be equal to the height.

A lighthouse on the Japanese coast is constructed of bamboo. Bamboo was used because it has great power of resisting salt water, and does not rot like ordinary wood.

Automobiles Indicate Prosperity

If the demand for automobiles is an indication of general prosperity, as is usually supposed, Canada must be in an enviable position. Aside from the large number of automobiles manufactured in Canada there have been imported into this country in the last five years passenger automobiles to the value of $45,749,115.

Former Kaiser Writes a Book

Says Circumstances Outside of Germany Responsible for the War

A book written by former Emperor William, dealing with the world war, is understood to have been acquired for publication by a United States group under an option covering world rights.

It is understood the ex-Kaiser deals with the period leading up to the war, marshaling the conditions throughout Europe in such a way as to constitute a defence of his course, and an accusation that a series of circumstances outside of Germany were largely responsible for bringing on the conflict.

Surveying for Irrigation Projects

The annual report of the Reclamation Service, 1920-21, states that irrigation projects in full or partial operation in the Dominion cover 1,076,000 acres; 28,400 more look for water in 1921-22; surveys for a further 480,000 are ready for district organization and much survey work is underway on other tracts.

The Values of Colors

Hints for Selecting Wallpapers for Every Room

In choosing wallpapers and hangings it is useful to know the value of different colors.

Yellow, for instance, enlarges things. A room papered in yellow looks larger than it really is. It gives a glint of sunlight to a dark room.

Blue is a color which contracts a room. Some shades are rather cold.

Red gives a feeling of richness. It shows the positive size of an apartment.

Pink allied to white paint is an excellent selection for a bedroom.

Brown is good for a living room.

Grey is an unpretentious color which harmonizes beautifully with almost any other hue—mulberry, peacock blue or primrose.

Beauty Through Surgery

Aged Women Undergo Painful Operations to Remove Face Blemishes

Ageing women, seeking beauty through the scalpel, are crowding surgeons' offices. Miracles of modern surgery are utilized by hundreds to remove blemishes left by time on the feminine face.

Surgeons attending the annual convention of the American Medical Association at St. Louis told of the willingness of women to undergo most painful operations to restore their beauty. Surgical methods of changing old women into new was approved by the physicians, but a warning was issued against dangers of quacks.

Edna Wallace Hopper, diminutive comedienne, who made a success in the first Floradora nearly 30 years ago, told the medical convention of the operation in Los Angeles which made her face over.

"Beauty is the magic that attracts, holds and wins," she said. "A woman whose face shows the slow creeping of age, but who retains her girlish figure, is certainly foolish not to take advantage of the opportunity in beautifying her face through a surgical operation."

Plan Radio Station At Norway House

For Reporting Fires and Broadcasting Reliable Weather Reports

If present plans mature, two radio stations will be installed this season for the use of the forest aeroplane patrols at Norway House and Victoria Beach, according to Major B. D. Hobbs, of Winnipeg station of the Canadian Air Board. The outfits will be able to transmit by key only and to receive key and telephone calls. The advantages of the methods will be that speedy communication may be made between bases in the matter of reporting fires to the district inspector of forestry at Winnipeg, so that help may be sent to the scene of conflagration as soon as possible, and for the broadcasting of reliable weather reports from the north country. The flying boats will also be equipped with wireless outfits.

Production of Gold Increased

The value of lode gold produced in British Columbia in 1921 was $2,804,154, as compared with $2,481,392 in 1920, an increase of $322,762, or about 13 per cent., according to a report of the Department of Mines. The production of gold in British Columbia during each of the last four years has only been about one-half of the annual output immediately preceding the war. However, judging from developments now in progress it would seem that in a short time the annual duction of gold in the province should increase considerably.

In China the farms average little more than half an acre in extent.

TIRED AND RUN DOWN

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Where Other Medicines Failed

Vancouver, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a friend to take the Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. Greaves, 771 Hornby St., Vancouver, British Columbia.

Many women keep about their work when it is a great effort because the work must be done. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has brought relief to thousands of tired housewives by removing the troubles which cause annoying symptoms.

If you are suffering from nervousness, headache and backache, pains in right or left side, tired and rundown feelings, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Just bear in mind this medicine has been used by women for nearly fifty years. That is a long record of service, and stands upon the foundation of merit.

For a White Australia

Policy of Australia for White Population Favored in England

The Imperial British Government, as a matter of Empire concern, is favorably inclined toward Australia's "White Australia" policy reports Sir James Connolly, Agent-General for West Australia in London.

Sir James states that the policy would help close the back door to the Australian continent, and especially to the unpeopled semi-tropical territories of Northern Australia.

It is possible, Sir James said, that the Imperial Government would aid in the scheme of building railways and roads and equipping 2,000 farms in the territory for occupation by emigrants from British lands.

Sir Harry Lauder Refers To Intense Loyalty He Found In Canada

Sir Harry Lauder was the principal guest of the Rotary Club at luncheon at the Hotel Cecil. About 400 Rotarians, many of whom were from the provinces and from abroad, were present to welcome the Scottish comedian after his tour of 22 weeks in America and Canada.

Mr. R. S. A. Housden, who presided, said that Sir Harry was one of the leading exponents of the doctrine of unselfishness—of service to the community—that went by the name of Rotary, which had now entered 30 countries, and had 100,000 members. Rotary had probed its way into every profession, trade and calling; it was international and not deterred by boundary or language. (Cheers.)

Sir Harry Lauder, who wore a kilt, was received with loud cheers, and, after drinking the health of the company, he sang a song, "Once every week, every week in the year," the refrain of which was "Having a smoke, cracking a joke with your pals in the Rotary." When the laughter and applause had subsided, Sir Harry Lauder said that they wanted the Rotary movement to spread its tenacles in every direction; they were out for friendship and not battleships. (Laughter.) In Canada there was a loyalty that was wonderful, considering the distance from these shores and the proximity of the great Republic of America, where there was a reciprocity of ideas and a similarity of customs in national life. Yet between the United States and Canada there was a comradeship—a true comradeship—that constituted a symbol of friendship that was hard to beat. Who was there who did not believe that our Empire and the United States, standing together in confidence and regard could carry the world with them in the realization of its noblest dreams? (Cheers.)

The appointment of Lord Byng of Vimy as Governor-General of Canada had been marked by much success. His appointment was an experiment that was fraught with great danger, for he was a soldier, pure and simple, straight from the battlefield, who now filled that high post. The war reaction was felt in Canada just as elsewhere; Lord Byng had proved himself a man of more than ordinary agreeableness and power, and Canada was showing her appreciation of him. (Cheers.)

When he was in America he had the good fortune to meet informally, and very intimately, President Harding; and he formed a very high opinion of him as a sincere and sagacious gentleman. His countrymen had unbounded confidence in his courage and his capacity. He would very much like to see President Harding and Mr. Lloyd George on the golf course. (Laughter.) He would make bold to say, after the match was over, that the peace of the world would be solved. (Laughter.) President Harding was a great, big, simple, kindly Christian man, and that was what we were wanting today. (Cheers.) The name and fame of the work of Lloyd George in the United States and Canada was in such grateful esteem that he believed it amounted to hero-worship. (Cheers.)

Sir Harry Lauder concluded by singing his song, "Singing is a thing to make you cheery." In one of the verses he introduced the Prince of Wales, and on finishing he caused much laughter by turning to Wing-Commander Louis Greig and remarking audibly, "Don't ye be gaun and tellin' the Duke of York."

Mr. G. N. Barnes, M.P., thanking Sir Harry Lauder, spoke of him as being even more than a national institution—he was an international figure.—The London Times.

Alberta May Have Pulp Industry

Whether or not a pulp industry can be established in the province of Alberta, using spruce and poplar timber from the near-north country, will be made known as a result of a series of experimental tests to be made under the auspices of the Alberta Government's advisory scientific research council. Great stretches of small timber all over the north country and in the western foothills will be turned to profitable account if the experiments work out successfully.

Encouraging Settlers With Capital

Many inquiries are being received by the Publicity Commisisoner of the Alberta Government from intending settlers in Alberta, chiefly from Middle Western States. Interest is displayed in all parts of the province. The Government is not encouraging wholesale immigration, but offers encouragement to those who have sufficient capital to establish themselves.

For the Land Seeker

Available Lands for Homesteads are Now Mapped Out

The total number of quarter-sections of Crown land still available in each township is shown on the 1921 edition of a land map of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, recently issued by the Department of the Interior, likewise the number of quarter-sections unoccupied and uncultivated lands held in private ownership and purchasable from the non-resident owner. This latter feature, showing at a glance what lands are for sale, should prove of great service to the land seeker. Supplementary to the map, the department has had compiled for each district, lists containing information as to the price asked for the land, terms of sale, nature of soil, acreage fit for cultivation, value of buildings and other matters helpful to the prospective purchaser. With such information in his possession the intending settler may then negotiate with the owner of the land.

Another important feature of the map is the railway belt information which has been shown in three different shades of color on each side of all railway lines, to signify land within 5, 10 or 15 miles of a railway. Among other details shown are the Dominion parks, the forest reserves, land districts and agencies, surveyed townships, and railway information to date. A copy of the map, also a list of the unoccupied lands for sale in any particular district may be obtained free of charge upon application to the Natural Resources Intelligence Branch, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

France Distrusts Germany

Poincare Tells of German Propaganda to Regain Alsace Lorraine

The keynote of Premier Poincare's first public speech since the close of the Genoa Conference was distrust of Germany and the resolve of France to obtain war reparation. The occasion was the Congress of French National Veterans' Association at which representatives of the British and other veteran associations were present.

M. Poincare denounced what he termed the insidious plotting of Pan German propaganda at home and abroad, notably in America, to separate Alsace Lorraine from France.

M. Poincare declared that the peace which had come from the victory they won must neither be disturbed nor turned little by little against the victors. In conclusion, he said:

"Germany, the vanquished, promised to repair the evil she had wrought to us. You, who are the witnesses of the ravages her arms left behind, will not suffer that promise to be ignored."

Idle Forest Land in Canada

The exhaustion of our timber supply is coming about, not because we have used our forests freely, but because we have failed to use our timber-growing land. The problem in a nutshell is the enormous area of forest land which has been so logged and burned that it is producing little or nothing. This situation cannot long continue without grave consequences. If we are to remain a nation of wood users we must become a nation of wood growers. By some means or other we must see to it that forest lands not needed for agriculture are not allowed to lie idle but are kept at work growing timber.

Scientific Cookery

Moreover, the more light that science succeeds in throwing on the processes of cookery, the more certain it appears that, in as many cases as possible, and particularly in the case of vegetables and fruits, it is highly desirable to dispense with cooking altogether. We are not yet scientifically quite certain what our new friend the vitamine is going to do to us, but it seems quite clear that we often deprive ourselves of his beneficient influences. We need to know a great deal more about the benefits and the mischiefs of cookery than we do.—Boston Transcript.

Canada's Wheat Crop

A Dominion Government return places the value of the wheat crops in the prairie provinces for the year 1921 as follows: Manitoba, $35,539,000; Saskatchewan, $142,880,000; Alberta, $46,756,000. The values of other grains produced in all three provinces were: Oats, $70,611,000; barley, $17,000,051; rye, $13,135,000, flax, $5,431,000. These figures are based on the value on the farm before marketing.

Send Dentist to the Arctic

Dr. W. P. Miller of Edmonton, Will Provide Relief for Toothache in Far North

Dr. W. P. Miller of Edmonton is going to the far north on a mission of mercy and will attend to toothache sufferers from Fort McMurray to the Elice River post on the far eastern arctic, says the Edmonton Bulletin. Up to the present time dentistry in the far north has been practised on Spartan lines, the one relief from suffering being the use of forceps, wire cutters or blacksmith's tongs, to extract the offending molars and the men who man the posts have united in pleading for the services of a genuine dentist to put an end to their sufferings.

Accordingly the Hudson's Bay Company have arranged free transportation for Dr. Miller, who will go north via the company's Athabasca and Mackenzie River services, returning by the way of the Behring straits and the Alaska coast on the company's steamer "Lady Kindersley." Should the amount of work on the Arctic coast prevent his making connections with the steamer, when outward bound, the H.B.C., will send the adventurous dentist over land by dog team via the Yukon route, but as Dr. Miller has previously resided in the Y.T. it is likely that this section of the journey will merely savor of "old times."

The company's employees at Fort McMurray will be first treated, after which the doctor will move down stream attending to his patients at Chipewyan, Fort Smith and other points, and on arrival at the mouth of the Mackenzie will possibly catch the "Lady Kindersley" on her voyage to the Eastern Arctic, or failing that will go down on one of the smaller vessels which the H.B.C. use on the northern sea.

Settlers Working Reclaimed Land

Twenty thousand of thirty thousand acres of land of the Provincial Government reclamation scheme at Sumas Prairie, B.C., have been reclaimed and settlers have gone on the property and are making many improvements and plowing. The Vedder River has been diverted from its channel and turned into a high-diked canal three miles long. The balance of the undertaking will be completed by next year, it is said.

Alberta Farmers Optimistic Over Crop

Southern Alberta farmers plan a heavy acreage of grain this season, as shown by the crop report compiled by the Lethbridge division of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Wheat alone, according to indications, will run to over a million acres. Great optimism prevails over the prospect in view of excellent moisture conditions.

Demonstrated Value Of Cow Testing

Dominion Dairy Commission Shows What May be Accomplished

The value of cow testing and recording as a guide in feeding for milk yield and in weeding out low producing cows from the herd is well illustrated by the officer in charge of the work under the Dominion Dairy Commissioner. In his report on the subject he gives instances of increase on annual revenue which illustrate what may be accomplished. In four years, he says, by adoption of the system, the Comox Association in British Columbia increased the average yield per cow by 1,400 lbs. milk and 70 lbs. fat. This was in the period from 1914 to 1918, and in the latter year the increase meant at least fifty dollars more per cow than was obtained in 1914. In a locality in Ontario where the system has been followed for a term of years, the production of one herd, including a number of grade cows, has been increased from 5,400 lbs. milk to nearly 12,000 lbs. per cow. The average of 57 cows finishing a full year's testing in 1920 was 8,866 lbs. milk and 313.4 lbs. fat. The statement is made that in Denmark twenty per cent. of the cows are tested; that in the United States there are 452 associations operating with an average of 425 cows tested in each association, or over 272,000 cows in all, and that in Canada, where the method pursued is on different lines, 3,400 farmers are so engaged. The numbers everywhere are increasing rapidly. Co-operation is recommended as the best method to follow in operating the system of cow testing, and the hiring of competent men to do the work.

Mostly Farmers

Many Soldier Settlers Were Farm Laborers Before Enlistment

Major Barnett, chairman of the Soldier Settlement Board, giving evidence before the pensions committee of the House, said that of soldier settlers on the land to whom assistance had been given, there would be only about five per cent. with no previous agricultural experience. Fifty per cent., however, were not on the land at the time of enlistment. In many cases men who were farm laborers before enlistment had taken up land for themselves. Payments in arrears at the end of the last fiscal year of the board were $1,203,000 out of $2,296,000 due. However, the board had also received over $1,000,000 in prepayments.

Total value of the loans actually made was $87,740,000. The amount had been advanced by the finance department. The board had already repaid to the Finance Department $11,885,000.

Alpine Club Meets at Banff

The annual summer camp of the Alpine Club of Canada will be held in the Palliser Pass in the Canadian Rocky Mountains, three days pack journey or about 60 miles from the railroad at Banff, from July 27th to August 15th. About two hundred members of the club from all over Canada and the United States are expected to meet at Banff. Several innovations in difficult mountain scaling will be introduced this summer, and the feasibility of scaling Mount Logan, the highest peak in North America, will be discussed and tentative arrangements made for the feat.

Diagnosed

"I am afraid, doctor," said a woman to the physician she had cornered at a reception, "that my husband has some terrible mental affliction. Sometimes I talk to him for hours and then discover he literally hasn't heard a word I said."

"That isn't an affliction, madam," was the weary reply. "That's a divine gift."

An Engineering Mystery

Iron Bar With Perforation Through Centre Stronger Than a Solid Bar

It seems impossible that an iron bar with a hole through the centre should be stronger than a solid bar of the same diameter, but this has actually been proved to be the case. A British firm has developed a very ingenious process of making what it calls a hollow cored bar with this increase of strength. The hollow core is really a small hole which extends from end to end of the bar. Obviously it would be a very costly business to bore a hole through the bar, and in consequence this firm has developed a clever way of making the bar hollow without drilling. The mass of metal from which the bar is drawn is drilled in the first case, and the hole is packed tight with a special composition. The ends of the hole are subsequently sealed by a patented process of welding. When the piece of metal is rolled in the mill into a long bar the packing stretches with the metal and preserves the continuity of the hole. One of the most important applications of this hollow cored bar is for mining drills where the hole is used for a current of air or a jet of water to cool the cutting edge. Where water is used it converts the dust made by the tool into slush before it can rise and be breathed by the miner. Thanks to this invention it is probably that the liability of miners to tuberculous trouble will be greatly minimized. Hollow cored bars are also being used for a great variety of purposes in motor car construction and elsewhere. Arrangements have recently been made for the production of these hollow bars on a much larger scale than formerly.

Money Cannot Take Place of Service

Many People Pay When Work Is More Necessary

"Say it with dollars" is the cry of a group of Philadelphia churches out on a drive for a community benevolence. It is all right to say it with dollars when dollars are necessary for the purpose in mind. But there is room to believe that many persons are saying, or trying to say, their duty in dollars when personal service is needed. Many useful and noble enterprises in religion and community aid can be accomplished only by liberal money talk. Cash speaks then for the heart and for the conscience. But a father cannot do his full duty to his family merely by keeping them abundantly supplied with money or the things money buys as many a liberal family head has learned to his sorrow and sometimes to his shame. So far has the "say it with dollars" idea invaded many churches that a considerable portion of their membership are almost in the attitude of those who purchased indulgences before the reformation begun by Luther. It is the habit of all commercial ages to estimate values on a dollar or money basis. But we should not forget that many of the finest qualities and rewards of life cannot be measured by any money standard.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

England Abolishing Speed Laws

But Will Increase Penalties for Dangerous Driving

England is preparing to abolish all her speed laws for motorists and drivers of other road vehicles.

Enforcement of the regulations for dangerous driving and increased penalties for violation of the regulations are, however, contained in the report of the committee on taxation and regulation of road vehicles.

The speed limit signs, always an annoyance to the motorist, are to be done away with, and in their place is expected something along the following lines:

"Go as fast as you like, but you'd better jolly well be careful."

Suction Dredge for Recovering Gold

It is expected that a powerful suction dredge will be in operation on the Upper Peace River at Hudson Hope next summer for the recovery of gold from the gravel and alluvial deposits along the river. The company, which is composed of Edmonton men, is now sending in material for the construction of the dredge.

Nearly two million tons of sand is used in the United States each year in making glass.

The annual output of oysters in the Union States exceeds three billion.

'Tis better to be brief than tedious.

The Farm Garden Is A Very Important Factor In Economy Of The Home

The importance of the farm garden cannot be too greatly stressed upon. There is altogether too large a percentage of farms in the province where no attempt is made to have a garden. It should be generally recognized that the cost of operating a farm home can be greatly reduced by growing as large a percentage as possible of the foodstuffs required in the home. A farm garden makes it much easier to supply a wholesome and diversified menu, and hence is an important factor in maintaining the health of the members of the home.

Some of the chief advantages of a good garden may be summarized as follows:—

It is an evidence of thrift.

It assists in reducing the cost of operating a home. It is a very expensive matter for a farmer to have to purchase vegetables.

It ensures the use of an abundance of green foods, and thus has a very direct bearing on the health of those depending upon it.

Many of the vegetables produced in the average garden may be preserved for winter use by canning, thus insuring a supply of healthful food throughout the year.

A well planned and cared-for garden is a thing of beauty, especially if it is sheltered by a thrifty windbreak and contains fruit and flowers as well as vegetables.

It is a very essential part of the farm lay-out. It increases one's pride in his farm. It makes the farm more self-supporting. It stops many of the avoidable leaks in the pocket-book. It lends the atmosphere of permanence to the farm home.

The farm garden brings up the whole matter of beautifying the farm home. While a productive garden can be grown on practically every farm, it is much easier to make it successful if it is surrounded by a shelter belt. The Dominion Horticulturist, after a visit to the west in 1921, stated that "The prairie will become a land of gardens as soon as it has become a land of hedges and shelter belts."

It is important to allocate enough land for the garden so that one half may be fallow and the other half in garden each year, a plot one acre in size, allowing one half for the garden should produce enough for an average family each year.

Pitiable Conditions Among the Starving People of Russia

That the reports of the pitiable conditions abong the starving people of the Volga provinces in Russia have not been exaggerated is evident from statements made in Toronto by Professor Atkinson of Melbourne, Australia, who recently visited these portions of Russia.

Professor Atkinson said: "You cannot emerge from such an absolute inferno of human agony and feel that you have any individual rights whatever in the face of this, the most appalling disaster that history has ever known."

Describing the look on a starving child's face as it reached out to get the bread, and was looking at it with the most dreadful look I ever saw in all my life. The whole tragedy of Russia was summed up in the expression of that child's face."

Speaking on the question of responsibility for these conditions, Professor Atkinson said: "It is no use blaming the Soviet or anybody else in Russia if you want to do anything from a humanitarian standpoint. The Soviet is doing its best to help the foreign organizations to deliver food and he could assure them that all the food got to the children—every bit of it."

Friendless Flowers

It has recently been discovered that flowers, like human beings, have friends and enemies in their own world. If certain varieties are put together in a vase some of them will droop almost as soon as they are placed in the water. Sweet peas, for instance, will not live in company. Some flowers, such as the mignonette, lily of the valley, and shirley poppy have a bad effect on almost all neighbors, and are practically friendless.

Gold in Northland

Prospects for gold in the deltas and banks of the waterways of the Northland are good, according to Carl Lungeren and his party of four who have prospected the western tributaries of Great Bear Lake and the streams flowing into the Liard, immediately adjacent to the Mackenzie River. They have taken up claims on the Dahaninni. They claim to have washed an average of sixteen ounces a day for nearly a month.

The Food Value Of Dairy Products

Milk and dairy products generally are of inestimable food value to the human race, and their comparatively moderate cost makes them accessible to practically every one. Further than that, the products of the dairy add immensely to th ewealth of the country. It is a question if the people of Canada sufficiently appreciate either the economic value of the dairy industry to the country at large, or the food value of milk and its products to the individual. In Britain the consumption of cheese per capita greatly exceeds ours. In butter we do better; but in milk our consumption individually has been shown to be one quarter of a pint compared with half a pint in the United States. Since that advent of prohibition, however, the United States consumption per capita has increased to three quarters of a pint, and there is evidence to show that Canadians are also taking a great deal more to the lacteal fluid than formerly.

The importance of milk in the diet of both young and old is constantly being emphasized by the medical profession. Malnutrition or undernourishment, it should be understood, is not always the result of insufficient food, but frequently of unwisely and improperly chosen foods. This is supported by the fact that investigation has shown that a large percentage of under-nourished children are the offspring of well-to-do parents. The thoughtful mother will see that her children get plenty of milk from which to build a strong framework, develop mental capacity, and good health. Future happiness depends largely on these factors.

Progress Made in Flax Cultivation

Since the inception in 1916 of the Division of Economic Fibre Production in connection with the Dominion Expermental Farms, such progress has been made in flax growing in Canada that, for every acre cultivated six years ago, there were in 1920, thirty-two acres under culture. What is more, seed is exported to Ireland and other countries; and it has been proved by actual spinning tests that Canadian fibre is suitable for the manufacture of the finest linen damasks. Also that the fibre obtained from flax grown on the experimental farms in the western part of British Columbia, in Ontario, the valley of the St. Lawrence, and in the Maritime Provinces, has not only been of first class quality, but equal to the best grades of Irish or Belgian. How much this gratifying and encouraging state of affairs is directly due to the work of the Division it is not possible to say, but that much of it is owing to the recommendations, advice, seed distribution, experiments, research, etc., made by the Division is undoubted. A set-back was experienced in 1920, when the flax building, with much valuable machinery and patiently compiled records, was destroyed by fire, but despite this disaster the work has been constantly extended.

Addressing the parliamentary committee of the League of Nations, Sir Charles Gordon, one of the Canadian delegates, stated that in volume of imports and exports Canada stood fourth among the thirty-four nations represented. In volume of commerce per head of population Canada stands first, and in export trade third, being exceeded only by Great Britain and France.

NOTICE

The Drought Area Relief Act

The Drought Area Relief Act has been passed to enable persons residing in certain areas of Southern Alberta and their creditors to adjust their accounts, and to prevent the dissipation of the resources of needy residents by a multiplicity of action and other legal proceedings.

Any person who has been resident and actively engaged in farming operations in such drought area for at least one year prior to January 1st, 1922, and is still resident and engaged in farming can come within the provisions of the Act.

The duty of the Commissioner is to endeavor to adjust matters between residents in the said area and their creditors so as to provide for the satisfaction of just claims.

Any resident farmer within the drought relief area, or any creditor of such resident farmer, can apply to the Commissioner for an enquiry into and an adjustment of his affairs.

It is recommended that applications be forwarded at once, as if there is any delay the detail work necessary in the adjustment of each account cannot be completed in time after the crop is harvested.

Any resident farmer, or creditor, failing to make application before August 15th next does so at his own risk, as it may not be possible to get the necessary help and complete enquiries after that date.

Applications for such relief, and to come under the provisions of the Act, should be made at once, in writing, to the Commissioner, Drought Area Relief Act, 320 Lougheed Building, Calgary, so that steps can be taken to make the necessary inquiry.

For further particulars apply to

E. J. FREAM,
Commissioner, Calgary.
